INTRODUCTIONS
City Manager Pettigrew introduced the new Planning Official Carla McLane, and Special Projects Manager Rolf Prag.

City Manager Pettigrew also shared that several condolence messages had been received by the City of Boardman in regard to the unexpected passing of Community Development Director Barry Beyeler.

FINANCIAL REPORT – ENDING JANUARY 31, 2022

Finance Director Barajas reported the last funds of the CDBG Capital Fund for the Boardman Migrant Head Start building. The program is still trying to meet all of their requirements to get children in the building; the ending balance is $14,25 remaining. There will be an open house scheduled for the opening and have suggested that they can provide a private tour for city council members.

Finance Director Barajas also mentioned that interest rates have held steady for the last three months, with no further decreases.

Councilor Beagle asked about the sewer funds and wanted to know why there is a negative in the balance; Finance Director Barajas explained that funds 520 and 530 are previous sewer bonds that were re-funded by dollars from the G.O. Bond and only past due taxes are being collected on the previous sewer accounts with the expectation that eventually those funds will be rolled over into the G.O. Bond. No money is lost on those accounts, it is simply reflective of a slow collection process for those funds through taxes. There were no further questions regarding the Financial Report.

PRE-ARRANGED PRESENTATION
BCDA

Lisa Mittelsdorf, from the BCDA (Boardman Community Development Association) presented information regarding three lots owned by the City of Boardman; the two lots East of the old BMCC building, a replat of the existing lot on which the old BMCC building sits, and lot 4400. The BCDA would like to make an offer to purchase the lots from the City of Boardman for $50,000.00/lot.

Mayor Keefer recommended further discussion of the potential sale during the Executive Session.

OTHER BUSINESS
Update on SDC Waivers
Planning Official McLane presented a Memorandum regarding the System Development Charges Update to the council members. Planning Official McLane explained that this document was intended to be an overview to the councilors and that there are two steps that need to be accomplished before action is taken; 1.) The city is proposing to add transportation and parks to the current water and wastewater methodology and proposed new rates which the city council will need to vote on in the future 2.) The memorandum compares current definitions to state law, and statutes to ensure compliance and is recommending changes to the current policy and ordinances which will eventually come before the council before June. City Manager Pettigrew added that the city is currently charging SDC’s this year as it is not legal to waive charges, and no one has complained about the charges.
